

BRAINERD CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY MEETS

LUNCH SERVED AT CHAMBER COMMERCE

Annual Report Made Shows that Gratifying Increase Was Recorded in Amount of Business Done by Co-operative Society

Officers to be Elected at the Afternoon Session—Members of Association and Their Friends Inspect the Creamery in City

The members of the Brainerd Co-operative Creamery began to come into the city during the morning for the annual meeting of the creamery which was called to order at 2 p. m. by the president of the association, Otto Wendt.

A splendid representative gathering of the membership came together at noon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms and were supplied with an appetizing lunch consisting of sandwiches, coffee, doughnuts and pickles.

The report of the year 1920 was read in the meeting and will be printed in the Dispatch. Officers for year 1921 were elected during the afternoon. The members of the association who were present expressed their satisfaction over the report for the past year and there was manifest a spirit of optimism with regard to the expectations for the year upon which the organization enters with the transaction of the business of its annual meeting.

The retiring officers of the association are:

President of the Association—Otto Wendt.
President of the Board—George McCulloch.
Treasurer—August Nelson.
Temporary Secretary—Miss Sylvia Nelson.

The acting manager of creamery is Otto Wendt and the butter making is under the efficient direction of H. B. Hanson.

The cooperative creamery has seen splendid and encouraging growth and shows the value of co-operation among the farmers by which they may market their produce.

At the afternoon session in the Chamber of Commerce opening at 2 o'clock, the hall was crowded with farmers and many were compelled to stand because of lack of seating facilities.

Annual report for the manager of the Farmers' Co-operative Creamery Association of Brainerd, Minn. for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1920.

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING LAWS

(United Press)

Minneapolis, Feb. 15—Consideration of the co-operative marketing laws before the state legislature was before farmers of the state today at the opening session of a three day convention of the Farmers and Grain Dealers association. Nearly one thousand farmers and grain dealers are attending the convention.

HOLDS 3 TONNAGE TAX BILLS IMPERFECT

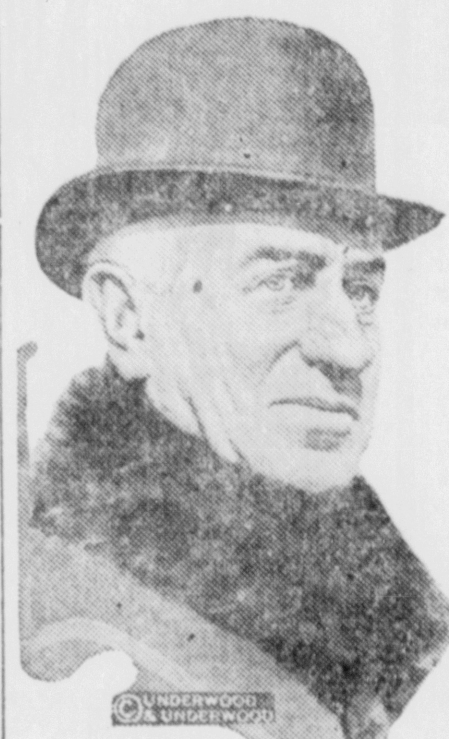

(United Press)

St. Paul, Feb. 15—Any tonnage tax bill by the legislature will provide for a levy in addition to present regular tax assessments, Attorney General Hilton told the house tax committee today. Four tonnage tax measures had been given the attorney general for opinion. Three were provisions to change the statutory law and the fourth provided for submission of proposed changes in the state constitution to be submitted to the voters at the next general election. The attorney general held that any one of the three measures should be modified so it would provide a tax in addition to the regular state levy. The fourth did not seem to violate any provision of the state or federal constitution, he said.

WHO'S WHO IN THE PRESIDENT'S CABINET, A MYSTERY

EVEN ELEVENTH HOUR SUGGESTIONS DO NOT SEEM TO CARRY MUCH WEIGHT

EX-GOVERNOR LOWDEN OF ILLINOIS ASKED TO BECOME SECRETARY OF NAVY

RAYMOND CLAPPER

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 15—President-elect Harding's cabinet is still a mystery, though the eleventh hour is almost here.

The best information today regarding the cabinet is as follows:
Definite selections: Charles Evans Hughes, New York, secretary of state; Harry M. Daugherty, Ohio, attorney general; Senator Albert B. Fall, New Mexico, for secretary of the interior; Henry C. Wallace, Iowa, secretary of agriculture.

Will H. Hays is regarded as fairly certain to be postmaster general.
Chas. G. Dawes positively will not be in the cabinet, friends close to the president-elect said today.

Harding has invited Ex-Governor Lowden, of Illinois, to become secretary of the navy, but Lowden is holding off. Uncertainty surrounds the treasury, war, commerce and labor portfolios.
Andrew W. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, mentioned for secretary of the treasury, is expected in Florida within a day or two.

PASTOR RECOMMENDS CHURCH ADVERTISING

New York, Feb. 15—"Every church should spend money for advertising and purchasing space in the newspapers, paying for such space as conscientiously and continuously as it does the preacher's salary," declared Rev. J. T. Brabner Smith of the committee on conservatism and advance of the Methodist Episcopal church. Criticism of the newspapers, unless it is just, is harmful, and there should be cordial relationship between the pulpit and the press, he said.

BORAH TO TEST SINCERITY OF NATIONS

Washington, Feb. 15—An amendment providing for the call of a disarmament conference of representatives of the United States, Great Britain and Japan was offered to the naval appropriations committee today by Senator Borah.

City Hall Bombed

Dublin, Feb. 15—An unsuccessful attempt was made to bomb the Dublin city hall last night. The building was occupied by government troops. The explosive was hurled from an automobile which passed the building at high speed. There was no damage done but resulted in a renewed search by the military today for hidden munition.

MAY COMPROMISE ON NORTH DAKOTA INDUSTRIAL PLAN

MINNEAPOLIS AND CHICAGO BANKERS NEGOTIATING FOR $6,000,000 LOAN

MEASURES UNDER WAY TO 'SAVE' THE BANK OF NORTH DAKOTA

(By United Press)

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 15—Compromise on the industrial program in North Dakota, inaugurated by the nonpartisan league administration would make a victory for Townleyism, members of the Independent Voters' association charged today.

Theodore Nelson, secretary, asserted there will be no compromise except upon the terms of the I. V. A.

Minneapolis and Chicago bankers are negotiating to float a $6,000,000 bond issue to "save" the bank of North Dakota and are understood to be willing to co-operate only if the bank is converted into a rural credit institution.

Other demands are said to include abandonment of the home building association after the present contracts are fulfilled and limitation of the state owned elevator and mill program at the completion of present projects.

Members of the Independent Voters' association will demand the resignation of Wm. Lemke, attorney general, as member of the state industrial commission and appointment of two of their representatives to the board. The legislature will adjourn in ten days. If the new program is to be adopted it must be done in that time. Measures are expected to be presented shortly covering the situation.

Minneapolis, Feb. 15—Attorneys here today were probing the legality of the North Dakota bonds with which it is proposed to refinance the bank of North Dakota.

Financiers were also insisting that fighting factions in North Dakota call off their political rows until the state financial situation is re-adjusted on a permanent basis.

The Bank of North Dakota is trying to dispose of $6,000,000 worth of bonds to take the place of re-deposits which cannot be collected from state banks. More than thirty institutions have already been closed by pressure of the state bank, and one hundred more are said to be threatened by heavy withdrawals.

Word from Bismarck said opponents of the nonpartisan league will not call off their investigation of the state owned industries no matter what compromise is agreed upon.

Washington, Feb. 15—The senate judiciary committee today unanimously went on record against payment of any further money to foreign countries even on commitments already made, until all the facts concerning loans are known to congress.

FILIBUSTER ON PACKER CONTROL BILL

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 15—A filibuster, rivaling that in the senate against the emergency tariff bill, may be started in the house this week to force acceptance of the packer control bill.

Advocates of the measure claim powerful pressure is being brought on republican leaders to prevent action this session until such a date that financial enactment would be impossible because of necessary conferences between the senate and the house.

KING GEORGE ON IRISH QUESTION AT PARLIAMENT

CLAIMS NO IRISH SELF GOVERNMENT CAN BE SECURED THROUGH VIOLENCE

DECLARED HE HOPED THAT TRADE WITH RUSSIA WOULD BE SUCCESSFUL

By WEBB MILLER

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, Feb. 15—No Irish self government can be obtained through violence, King George declared today in parliament.

"The situation in Ireland causes me distress," said the King in speaking from the throne. "In many sections of Ireland the people persist in resorting to methods of violence with the object of establishing the Irish republic. No Irish unity, no Irish self government can be obtained through these means," said the King.

The King announced the government will attempt to cope with unemployment with the use of unemployment insurance.

Bills for the reorganization of British railroads for the protection of essential industries against unfair competition will be introduced.

He declared he hoped negotiations for trade agreement with Russia will be brought to a successful conclusion.

King George asserted that estimates to be presented to parliament will reflect the government's determination to reduce expenses. He also pleaded for more thorough co-operation between capital and labor.

Pre-war splendor marked the convocation of parliament. The King and Queen drove to the house through lanes of troops and appeared before the house in robes of white, accompanied by a brilliantly clad suite.

The Prince of Wales and his brother, the Duke of York, also attended. The galleries were filled with representatives of foreign countries, and among them being the German envoy.

IMPEACHMENT CHARGES AGAINST JUDGE LANDIS

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 15—Judge K. M. Landis, of Chicago, may be asked to appear before the house judiciary committee to answer impeachment charges brought against him in the house by Rep. Welty of Ohio.

Friends of Judge Landis have asked that he be invited to appear while Welty believes that the committee should ask him to testify during the inquiry as to whether impeachment charges are sufficient to develop a trial by the senate.

A meeting of the judiciary committee probably will be held within the next few days to determine the procedure, Chairman Volstead said today.

ENLISTED GOB TANGLED IN PLOT

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 15—An enlisted man of the navy is under arrest in connection with the possible plot to blow up the president's yacht, "Mayflower," Secretary Daniels announced today.

The man who was arrested was a member of the crew of the Mayflower. Last week he was said to have asked the boatswain of the Mayflower that he be made watchman at a certain hour as he expected a package to be brought to the boat. He pleaded with the boatswain that it would be worth a large amount of money to him if he were allowed to do this by officers.

The boatswain suspected the man was expecting a bomb and reported the affair to Captain Holmes.

The man is now in prison. He was said to have made an appointment in a park with another man apparently to secure the "package." Naval authorities went to the park instead, but found no man waiting there. They found a note directing the sailor to meet him the following night.

The department of justice is now searching for the other man. Secretary Daniels intimated that officers of the Mayflower had reasons to suspect the enlisted sailor of sinister purposes.

1,500 DO NOT RELISH WAGE CUT

(By United Press)

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 15—Fifteen hundred men were principals today in the first demonstration as a result of re-employment at reduced wages since Detroit industries commenced reopening.

Five hundred men were called back to work at the Fisher automobile body plant and were told on their arrival their wages were cut and they struck. One thousand other workers soon joined in the strike and a small demonstration against the wage cut was started. The demonstration was in full swing with pangs of hunger felt by those who had eaten no breakfast when a bread wagon heavily loaded with bread appeared. There was a rush the wagon overturned and the bread eaten by the hungry men. A squadron of police arrived and soon broke up the demonstration.

(United Press)

Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 15—Miriam Ruben, eight year old school girl, who has talked almost incessantly since February 5, will soon be cured of her strange malady, physicians said today.

Miriam slept nine hours yesterday, which is more than at any time since she became afflicted. Twisted vertebrae in the spine caused her condition, doctors said.

1920 AUTO EXPORTS DOUBLE THOSE OF '19

Washington, Feb. 15—Automobiles exported from the United States in 1920 numbered 142,500 passenger cars and 29,126 commercial cars, according to the department of commerce. The total was more than twice that in 1919 and four times that in 1918. Shipments in large quantities were made to Europe, Asia, Central and South America, Canada and Mexico.

WAR COSTS STILL PILE UP IN THE BILLIONS IN U. S. A.

LATE WORLD WAR WILL COST AMERICA $24.21 PER CAPITA THIS YEAR

AND TECHNICALLY THE UNITED STATES IS STILL AT WAR WITH GERMANY

By RALPH COUCH

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 15—War this year will cost the United States $2,593,000,000 according to estimates by Secretary of the Treasury Houston, today. Every person in the United States is paying $24.24 a year for war purposes, according to Houston's figures, as against per capita appropriations for all purpose of $31.92. This leaves $7.68 per person for expenses other than those relating to war.

To get ready for future wars the United States this year will spend $861,291,800, or about 25 per cent of the total appropriations.

The great war of the present conflict in which the United States is still technically involved, will cost $1,413,721,082, or about 41 per cent. For purposes other than war there will be left 24 per cent.

HIGHWAY LEGISLATION BEFORE THE HOUSE

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Feb. 15—Highway legislation occupied the house today. Steps to make the Babcock good roads amendment effective, were taken up at 1:30 P. M.

At a hearing on the measure last night assemblymen requested definite guarantee that their district will receive certain apportionments of funds made available by the amendment. Commissioner Babcock explained the object of the program and pointed out varying conditions throughout the state, declaring it would take extensive study to make just apportionments in each of the 86 counties.

The state senate at noon killed the Coleman bill providing for salary increases in several state offices. The bill would have increased the salary of the governor and all executives in the auditor and attorney general departments. The senate postponed the measure indefinitely.

Five hundred bills have been introduced in the senate to date. Senator Hall introduced the five hundredth today—providing that the absent voters' law be amended so that voters who are unable to reach the polls may vote by mail.

The market committee in the house laid over for final consideration on Thursday morning the bill prohibiting trading in grain futures. The committee recommended for passage a bill requiring milk and cream to be stored in sanitary places.

Bills proposing new state parks were considered by the public domain committee of the house. Senator Turnham offered a senate bill providing that the next jurors shall be chaperoned. Sheriffs would be required to appoint female deputies where men and women served as jurors.

The house plans to adjourn at 4 P. M. so members could prepare to attend the third house banquet at the Athletic club tonight.

The senate today refused to kill the bill passed at the last session establishing standard width sleds and sleighs.

STINGING WORDS FROM GALBRAITH

AMERICAN LEGION COMMANDER SAYS WE HAVE FORGOTTEN OUR WORLD WAR HEROES.

NEGLECT OF THE DISABLED

Distressing Results of the Scarcity of Hospitals for Veterans and of the Faulty "System" That Is Being Employed.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.
 Washington.—Was there ever a worse indictment of a great people than that found in the words of Legion Commander F. W. Galbraith just spoken at a meeting in this city at which were present high officers of government, of the army and navy and the representatives of our allies?

"The wish of the Legion is to rehabilitate the wounded physically and in the hearts of the American people."

These were the Legion commander's words. He said that the masses of the American people have forgotten and forsaken the men whom they cheered on departure for the battlefield, and on whom, when the day of return came, they lavished "never-forget-you" promises. Is the indictment a true one?

Members of the executive committee of the American Legion in conference session in Washington are trying to find means by which the government of the United States can be induced properly to care for the sick and wounded men who gave almost their all for the flag on the fields of France.

It was not long ago that the condition of the men in the hospitals of the country was set forth. It was a picture of shame. Today it must be redrawn more shamefully. On the strength of statements from the executive committee of the American Legion, it can be said that there are 20,000 American veterans of the World war today who ought to be in hospitals and who are not there because there are no hospitals for them to enter. It can be said on the strength of the same authority that at least 11,000 veterans out of a total of about 22,000 now in the hospitals are suffering, either bodily or mentally, from the incompetence of a government which owes them everything.

Have the People Forgotten?

What do the American people care? Commander Galbraith told the representatives of the American government here in his public speech that except for the few devoted men and women who during the war, because of their activities in Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., K. of C. and Red Cross work, acquired the habit of looking after the soldiers, virtually no one today is visiting them, ministering to them, or doing anything to ease their condition.

Congress is going to do something. Finally it seems to have been brought to a realizing sense that it is bad economy to save money at the expense of the lives of American citizens who were willing to offer those lives for the defense of their country. It took congress some time to make up its mind to a course of generosity or near generosity and some time to realize that conscience demanded something should be done for the men who were incapacitated, either in our home camps or at Chateau Thierry, Hattin-Chatel, or on the Aisne, the Meuse and the Aire.

Perhaps Commander Galbraith's address, delivered as it was in the presence of Secretary of the Navy Daniels, CATARH OR COLD IN HEAD.

 Can be instantly relieved by simply applying a little MINTOL in the nostrils. Pleasant to use, and there is nothing better.

Generals Pershing, Lejeune and other army officers, and of the representatives of the Belgian and French governments, might have been in a way more tactful, but Galbraith is a soldier, and, like a soldier, is blunt. One or two of his criticisms of government conduct were perhaps unjust, and if not unjust were perhaps misplaced, but the indictment of the American people for forgetting the men of whom only a short time ago they were making heroes, is a stinging thing.

Good Intentions, Bad System.

The soldier critics of the government are careful to say that the intention of the heads of the different bureaus whose duty it is to look after the welfare of the sick and wounded are good, but that they are prevented from doing all that they can because of the "system" which is employed. Every sick soldier in the United States is looked on as if he were three or four individuals.

Seemingly congress has not been as alert to justice in this matter as it might have been because of the very fact that the American people who did not go to war apparently have forgotten the men who did go to war.

When there is a great cause before the people which needs congressional action to put it into effect, congress is prompted to its instant duty in the case by floods of letters and telegrams from the people. Few American citizens have written to the senators and representatives urging that something be done quickly to ameliorate the sufferings of the veterans and to put an end to the red tape which binds their hands from the activities of doing something for themselves. Perhaps, Legion men say, the American people who staid at home have not yet recovered from the fatigue of cheering on their way the men who were going to France to fight for the fireside heroes.

Birds of Another Order.
 "I have heard men," said Senator Sorghum, "discussing most eloquently on the American eagle, when what their minds were really on was quail on toast."

Tact.
 "What do you think that pretty girl said to the officer who introduced his comrades to her at the naval ball? She said, 'You have got me in a nice mess.'"

Spring Shoes For The Fair One Are Riots of Color, Jewels, Ribbons, Metal

BY "MARJORIE"

(Written for the United Press)
New York, Feb. 15—Spring shoes are more elaborate and gorgeous than ever before, although such a pedal state seems almost impossible in view of the confections of footgear that have tripped about this past season.

Shoe makers say that since, after long years in the attempt, they have convinced womankind that shoes must be as fragilely beautiful as gown or hat, they do not intend any slump in their propaganda. Thus, spring footwear showings in manufacturer display rooms are a riot of colored kid and fabric, metal, jewels, ribbons and composition.

Gray seems to be the big choice in color, as shoes follow suit and coat, and blue and gray is the big color feature in outer raiment for spring. There are many copper and red browns, however, a few blacks and midnight blues, and the usual novelty combinations.

Trimings run rampant. A swirl of patterned perforations with an underlay of contrasting color and fabric is the big trimmings feature. For instance, a pair of bronzed kid Colonial pumps have an inch-wide band of oval perforations about the entire shoe. White kid is used as the underlay of contrasting color and fabric the straps upon the tongue.

The reverse effect is another new note in footwear. This style is shown in blue kid pumps, piped in white kid, with white straps that disappear under the turn-back reverses.

Gray suede perforated with a wide range of patterns and underlaid with black patent leather is a style much in the foreground, and black patent leather, trimmed with gay scarlet pipings of velvet, satin or kid, is another reigning novelty.

Gay coloring and elaboration is given by patterned stitching that runs over strap, tongue, toe, and shoe top. Such a unique model is shown in black patent leather with an intricate design in scarlet and white stitching. A wide tongue fringed at both top and bottom completes the bizarreness of the model.

One-sided effects given by misplaced straps or slashings are also very nobby. Floral patterns outlined in narrow leathers of gay color are a new season's hobby also.

Evening pumps adhere to satin and cloth of gold or silver, although a combination of satin and metallic cloth is very popular. Very narrow strips of the contrasting material alternate. A huge composition or velvet flower takes the place of the old-time rhinestone buckle.

The vamp of the new shoes is medium. The toe is somewhat rounded and either the military or Louis heel is used. There seems to be a compromise between the American and French cut.

ISADOR BERGER

Who Studied Under Sauret, Wilhelmj and Thomson to Play at New Park Sunday Afternoon

Isador Berger, great violinist who studied under Sauret in Geneva, Switzerland; Wilhelmj in London and Cesar Thomson in Brussels, has been secured by the Brainerd Musical club for a concert at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the New Park theatre.

Of him Glenn Dillard Gunn of the Chicago Tribune, says: "Isadore Berger, who as a boy violinist astonished his fellow townsmen with his phenomenal technical gifts some ten years ago, ventured to recall himself to their attention with a recital given last night at the Ziegfeld theatre.

"In all the variety of styles represented, the young violinist seemed equally at ease. He has come back with a mechanical equipment that is remarkable for its scope and accuracy. His left hand is facile. His intonation impeccable. His bow arm firm but agile."

To him the old master Sauret wrote "Your beautiful talent is your most precious recommendation. An artist, a true artist, cannot owe anything to anyone. You are an artist by nature and you love your art. You cannot do otherwise, for you were born an artist long before you became a virtuoso."

W. A. G. Club

The W. A. G. club met at the home of Miss Hazel Wadsworth, 1313 South Broadway, on Monday evening, Feb. 14th.

The election of officers took place, the following being elected:

President—Hazel Russell.
Vice President—Jennie McCarthy.
Secretary—Hazel Wadsworth.
Treasurer—Emma Shaw.

Reporter—Edna Oakes.
After the business meeting the club enjoyed the following program: Piano duet by Hazel Wadsworth and Hazel Russell, a vocal solo by Grace Nelson and a piano solo by Mildred Shamp.

A dainty luncheon was served by Mrs. Wadsworth and the meeting adjourned.

QUARANTINE AGAINST TYPHUS ESTABLISHED

(By United Press)

New York, Feb. 15—Following two deaths from typhus here, plans were being made today by the public health service for immediate establishment of a twelve-day quarantine of all trans-Atlantic passengers. Under this system liners would be compelled to withhold their passengers from landing until twelve days had elapsed from the time of sailing, to allow incubation of typhus germs which may have been taken into the system. The steamer Minnesota will be anchored off the coast as a quarantine hospital.

CRADLE OF THE HUMAN RACE

Seems to Be Ample Proof That Mid-Asian Plateau Was the Original Emigration Point.

Somewhere on the lofty mid-Asian plateau, scholars tell us, was the region whence the human race dispersed and was distributed. If the theory seems to cynics a little like a sentimental engraving, we have to trust the authorities. At any rate, in that now thinly populated district are the relics of early civilizations, earlier than any now known to history. It is significant that the most ancient civilized countries that we know, Babylonia, Chaldea and their successors and rivals, the peoples of the far-off frontiers in Asia Minor, Egypt, India, China are the frontiers or extensions of this central area, whence wave after wave of invasion has flowed immemorially. Man in the hunting stage has to follow the game for his food and his clothes. Therefore it is probable that Central Asia was the old home whence emigrated mammals whose descendants now live in other regions.

Blue Bird for Happiness.

To those of us who believe in the blue bird as a harbinger of happiness, it is gratifying to know that a much more brilliant one than our blue bunting exists, says a correspondent. It lives in California, is a little larger than our kingfisher and has feathers of a glorious blue. Among its companions are humming birds—tiny, bright-colored, timid things, with long, long bills, which they bury deep into the blossoms, hoping, perhaps, for their part, to find happiness hidden therein. Meantime, grey and white mocking birds, with long tails and a very cheeky expression, look on with scorn.

THE AUTOMOBILE COUNTRY

There are more automobiles in the United States than in all the rest of the world together, and still the country is not saturated.

During the past year there has been a gain in motor cars and trucks of nearly a million and a half. The total number at the end of the year is estimated by one authority at 9,295,600. Another authority, Automotive Industries, gives an estimate of 8,887,000. Perhaps it is safe to put it at a round 9,000,000. That means a gain of about 20 per cent for the year 1920.

The four states having the most cars are, in order of importance, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and California. They are not, however, the most thoroughly saturated. In that, the agricultural states lead.

While the country as a whole has one motor car to every 12.21 people, according to Automotive Industries, South Dakota has one to every 5.24 people, Iowa one to every 5.49 and Nebraska one to every 5.74. Roughly speaking, this means that the national population has one car to every two and a half families, but these agricultural states have almost one to a family. It certainly pays to be a farmer, if automobiles are any criterion. And what has become of the old isolation of farm life?

No doubt the increase is going to keep right on until there will be as many cars per capita in the whole country as there are now in fortunate South Dakota. We may reasonably expect, within a decade or two, an average of one to a family. That will be made possible by increasing prosperity and also by decreasing size and cost of cars.

THE WAR-RELIEF SURPLUS

Agitation to have the surplus money collected during the war for the common use of all the relief organizations turned over to the Hoover child-feeding fund is increasing. The Knights of Columbus have set a good example to the other organizations representing by voting in favor of this disposition of their full share of that balance, which is $500,000.

The entire unexpended surplus is $5,000,000. Except for the necessary consent of the proper authorities, the money is immediately available for rescue work in the starving lands. It was contributed for relief work. War needs have passed, and no greater peace time use appears than this one of saving the 3,500,000 children of Europe.

That generous sum is now idle. From every standpoint it ought to be set to work fulfilling some humane, constructive purpose. It cannot be re-distributed to its original donors. It can be distributed, in the form of essential food and clothing, among 500,000 European children—for it takes only $10 apiece to save those little ones through this winter. On the humane side of everything favors such a use of the fund. From the purely selfish side, for persons who like to calculate net gains of a businesslike sort in every transaction, the saving of those children will mean much toward the restoration of normal industry, normal living and sanity in the war-ravaged countries. That improvement will react favorably on the United States in the end.

AMUSEMENTS

Magic City Built
A Magic City. A city of silver and golden domes, of mosques and minarets gleaming in sunlight, sunset and moonlight. Bazaars swarming with life and dizzy with color; palaces and harems straight from the Arab of Imagination, and dungeons such as childhood bending over the "Arabian Nights" never pictured.

Back of this Magic City, a Bagdad of Fairyland, built for the production of "Kismet," in which Otis Skinner makes his initial screen debut, and which will be the attraction at the New Park Theatre for two days starting Friday, is a story of achievement.

The accomplishment of this enormous task was possible however, only through the efficiency of the various departments employed. Little shacks to house the workmen were built right on the studio grounds. There were day and night shifts, and no man left the "lot" until the last board was nailed and the last brick laid.

To safeguard the lives of those connected with this gigantic work, a hospital corps and fire brigade were organized. First aid nurses were in attendance at all times, and cuts and bruises received prompt attention. Although the buildings were insured it was thought best to have help at hand in the case of fire and the entire host of men were turned into a fire fighting brigade, trained and ready for action at the first sign of danger.

"Kismet," aside from the beauty of its story, and its sterling star, will find a niche for itself in the hall of fame by reason of its wonder of construction if for nothing else.

"Desert Gold"
Mr. Hampton's picturization of "Desert Gold" is the first of Zane Grey's productions to be produced in accordance with the author's own views of what the characters he created in the story should be made to do for the screen—the first to be produced under his personal supervision and the first to receive his personal approval when completed. "There is so far as I know not a lie in the picture," wrote Mr. Grey. "By that I mean that the people, the scenes and the action are absolutely true to my book as I wrote it."

It will be shown again tonight at the Lyceum.

URIC ACID IN MEAT BRINGS RHEUMATISM

Says a Little Salts in Water May Save You From Dread Attack

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, even finally settling in the joints, muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

WATER AND LIGHT BOARD

Held Lengthy Session Saturday Evening, President Zapfe Able to Attend

The Water and Light Board held a lengthy meeting on Saturday evening, February 12 at which all the members of the board were present. Carl Zapfe, president of the board was able to get down town to the meeting after having been confined to his home for about six weeks as a result of an injury to his foot sustained during a visit out of town during the Christmas season.

The board went over the rules governing the installation of meters and the rules governing collections on meter measurements. Much routine business was discharged holding the members together through many hours.

The board received a petition from West Brainerd containing 30 signatures asking that the water system be extended to West Brainerd. The petition was referred to the proper committee.

IRONTON

Ironton, Feb. 15—The marriage of Mrs. Charlotte Leese Brown and Roy Zwetz is announced. They were married on Monday, February 7th, in Minneapolis and expect to make their home in Ironton.

Captain Anderson and Mr. Brueske miraculously escaped serious injury on February 7th, when the air receiver of the compressor at the Hillcrest mine exploded. Although they were standing within 15 feet of the compressor at the time of the explosion neither of them was hurt. A heavy tank 8x4 feet in size was blown 400 feet. The buildings were damaged to the extent of about $200. The accident was caused by the freezing of the safety valve.

More than 70 members were present at the first anniversary of the Ironton Rebekah lodge held last Tuesday evening. The members enjoyed an interesting program.

The University Lyceum course will be put on by the Myrin-James post of the American Legion next winter. The course will consist of six numbers.

Water is being pumped from the Hopkins mine so that an engine may be removed.

A. C. Schultz, E. A. Lamb Jr., H. M. Stetson, William Scafield and G. A. Murphy attended the auto show in the Twin Cities last week.

L. R. Tanner was an Ironton visitor last week.

G. E. Peck was in the Twin Cities last week and attended the auto show.

C. A. Brewer left Thursday for a week's visit in the Twin Cities.

Mrs. I. W. Smith is in the Twin Cities and is to attend the Degree of Honor convention in Curtis Court of Minneapolis.

The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church will be entertained by Mrs. G. A. Murphy and Mrs. Sandstrom at the hall on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. C. J. R. Peterson and Mrs. W. E. Raymond were the hostesses of the Ironton Women's Community.

Among range visitors in Duluth Council last Wednesday.

Last week were R. J. and Arthur Mayhew, Walter Krause, and Wesley Small. They drove over the roads and found them in fine condition.

Mrs. D. B. McAlpine was surprised by a number of her friends on Tuesday evening of last week which was her birthday.

LARGE DECORATING BUSINESS IN CITY

Paint Shop Recently Opened by Paul Slipp and Jos. Lyons Bought by C. C. Bowen

IMPROVEMENTS MADE THERE

Mr. Bowen Took Up Old Established Business of Late John C. Congdon 3 Years Ago

The paint shop recently opened by Paul Slipp and Jos. Lyons, under the firm name of Slipp & Lyons, in the Gardner building opposite the post-office has been purchased by the local decorator C. C. Bowen and the building will be arranged for Mr. Bowen to provide increased facilities in the wall paper and general painting business for Brainerd and vicinity.

Mr. Bowen took up the old established business of the late John C. Congdon some three years ago and by attentive effort continued the popularity of the old stand still located at 617 Main street.

The new store in the Gardner building 414 South Sixth street is now being stocked with the newest seasons wall paper and a complete line of paint products.

The shop space will be devoted to automobile refinishing of the best grade of work which department is now in charge of O. C. Winberg an expert finisher recently of Minneapolis.

Improved methods to finish the cars dust free are installed in the shape of canopies and proper drying rooms to give satisfactory paint service to car owners.

The first floor is 150 feet in depth thus giving ample room to handle large sign and decorative work conveniently.

MRS. BLANCHE MCCOMAS

Wife of C. L. McComas of Daggett Brook Died of Bright's Disease.

Remains Sent to Iowa

Mrs. Blanche McComas, aged 62 years, wife of C. L. McComas of Daggett Brook, died on Saturday morning, of Bright's disease. Mrs. McComas had been sick for a long time. Her husband and a family of six sons and one daughter survive her and mourn their loss. They are Clement J., Walter J., Frank L., Donald, Robert, Charles and Anna.

Mrs. McComas was a member of the Catholic church. The body was brought to the B. C. McNamara undertaking rooms where it lay until Monday noon at which time it was sent to Lone Tree, Iowa, for burial. The family had lived on the farm at Daggett Brook for the past ten years.

WASHINGTON-LINCOLN

Parent-Teachers Associations of These Schools Had an Interesting Meeting

The parent-teachers associations of the Washington and Lincoln schools met at the Washington school and had a very pleasant session. The program included a violin solo by Miss Cecil Morrison with piano accompaniment by Miss Alice Johnson; a very interesting talk by Mrs. W. H. Gemmell; community singing led by F. B. Randall, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

The program committee appointed for next meeting includes Mrs. Carl S. Bentley chairman, and Mrs. A. H. Hillard, Mrs. Ed. Hall and Mrs. J. E. Robertson.

ALPHA CHORUS

With Orchestral Accompaniment Gives "Pink Rose" Song Service at First Baptist Church

The First Baptist church auditorium was taxed to its capacity on Sunday evening with a congregation which listened with intense interest to the rendition of the service of sacred song and story entitled the "Pink Rose."

The chorus of Alpha ladies assisted by male voices made a splendid spectacle as they marched into the church while the orchestra played the evening prelude.

The ladies wore white dresses and all responded to the leadership of the pastor Rev. Arthur C. Smith who directed the music and chorus. The singing was most excellently rendered and the reading of the story of Delia the Blue Bird of Mulberry Bend by Mrs. J. A. Thabes was impressively given. The attention of the audience was kept intact from the very beginning and all expressed much delight and satisfaction at the evening's service. Pink roses furnished the pedestal decorations in keeping with the spirit and interest of the story.

The orchestra and piano accompaniment added great value to the chorus and the memory of the service will linger long in the minds and hearts of all who heard it.

THE CZECHS

Recent dispatches reporting attempted uprisings among the radical element in Czechoslovakia, and statements that a stronger and stronger enmity toward the German inhabitants is being shown on all sides by the Czechs and Slovaks, center interest once more on this newly created central European republic that was carved after the war from Germany and Austria-Hungary. The following description of the Czechs is based on a communication to the National Geographic society from Prof. Alex Hrdlicka.

A 1,500-year-long, life-and-death struggle with the German race which surrounded them from the north, west and south, with a near-burial within the Austrian empire for the last three centuries, failed to destroy or break the spirit of the little nation of Czechs or Bohemians.

They are the westernmost branch of the Slavs, their name being derived, according to tradition, from that of a noted ancestral chief. The term Bohemia was applied to the country probably during the Roman times and was derived, like that of Bavaria, from the Boli, who for some time before the Christian era occupied or claimed parts of these regions.

Nature has favored old Bohemia, an important part of Czechoslovakia, perhaps more than any other part of Europe. Its soil is so fertile and climate so favorable that more than half of the country is cultivated and produces richly. In its mountains almost every useful metal and mineral, except salt, is to be found. It is the geographical center of the European continent, equally distant from the Baltic, Adriatic and North seas, and though inclosed by mountains, is so easily accessible, because of the valleys of the Danube and the Elbe rivers, that it has served in history as the avenue of many armies.

Besides Bohemia, the Czechs occupy Moravia and adjacent territory in Silesia, both formerly parts of Austria-Hungary. The Slovaks, who show merely dialectic differences from the Czechs, extend from Moravia eastward over most of what was formerly northern Hungary.

The Czech is kind and with a stock of native humor. He is musical, loves songs, poetry, art, nature, fellowship, the other sex. He is an intent thinker and restless seeker of truth, of learning, but no apt schemer. He is ambitious and covetous of freedom in the broadest sense, but tendencies to domineering, oppression, power by force over others, are foreign to his nature. He ardently searches for God and is inclined to be deeply religious, but is impatient of dogma, as of all other undue restraint. He may be opinionated, stubborn, but is happy to accept facts and recognize true superiority. He is easily hurt and does not forget the injury; will fight, but is not lastingly revengeful or vicious. He is not cold, calculating, thin-lipped, nor again as inflammable as the Pole or the southern Slav, but is sympathetic and full of trust and through this often open to imposition.

His endurance and bravery in war for a cause which he approved were proverbial, as was also his hospitality in peace.

He is often highly capable in languages, science, literary and technical education, and is inventive as well as industrial, but not commercial; imaginative, artistic, creative, rather than frigidly practical. Inclined at times to melancholy, brooding, pessimism, he is yet deep at heart forever buoyant, optimistic, hopeful—hopeful not of possessions, however, but of human happiness, and of the freedom and future golden age of not merely his own, but all people.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE—TRY IT

TRY TO RELIEVE THE RAILROADS

PRESENT EFFORTS OF CONGRESSMEN CHANGE IN TRANSPORTATION ACT.

PLAN PREPARED BY EXPERT

Professor Ripley of Yale Has Formulated for Interstate Commerce Commission a Scheme for the Operative Grouping of All Roads.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—Congress at this session has tried to pass a bill clarifying the transportation act so as to permit a partial payment at once to the railroads of the country under the guarantee clause. The house has been successful in the effort, but at this writing it is uncertain whether the measure will get through the senate and be approved.

The railroad relief endeavor in congress fortells further attempts to amend the transportation act at the coming extra session of the Sixty-seventh congress. When the new session begins it is expected that Senator Cummins of Iowa will introduce an amendment to the act forbidding strikes, and probably another amendment, with a view to making it certain that consolidation in operating shall be effected.

Coincident with the effort in the house to compel the partial payment on the government guarantee to the railroads comes the information that the interstate commerce commission now has in its hands a plan for the operative grouping of the railroad properties of the United States prepared by Prof. William Z. Ripley of Yale university.

The transportation act provides for the consolidation into operating groups, and Professor Ripley was asked by the I. C. C. to prepare a tentative plan which could be used as a basis for comprehensive action later.

He worked for six months at his task and the plan which he formulated now is in the keeping of the interstate commerce commission which will make a long study of it before making its details public. The commission will make changes if necessary, and after the complete plan is given to the public, constructive criticism will be invited.

Hope Is in New Congress.

It has been known in Washington for some time that there would be difficulty in securing amendments to the transportation act at the present session of congress. A large body of Democrats plus a considerable body of Republicans is opposed to doing much at the present time to lift the railroads out of what their directors claim is a slough of despond. When the new congress comes together, it is said by friends of the railroad cause, things will be different. As it is, Republican leaders in the present house seemingly are in favor of relief for the railroads, and as the present leadership will continue for the main part, both chiefs and followers in the new congress, it is expected, will put through the legislation.

One paragraph from the transportation act touching the consolidation of the railroad properties into a limited number of operating systems reads as follows:

"The commission shall as soon as practicable prepare and adopt a plan for the consolidation of the railway properties of the continental United States into a limited number of systems. In the division of such railroads into such systems under such plan, competition shall be preserved as fully as possible and wherever practicable the existing routes and channels of trade and commerce shall be maintained. Subject to the foregoing requirements, the several systems shall be so arranged that the cost of transportation, as between competitive systems and as related to themselves, of the properties through which the service is rendered shall be the same, so far as practicable, so that these systems can employ uniform rates in the movement of competitive traffic and under efficient management earn substantially the same rate of return upon the value of their respective railway properties."

Plan Will Be Open to Amendment.

When the interstate commerce commission has agreed upon a tentative plan it is its duty under the transportation act to give it publicity and to notify the governors of each state that it is ready to hear all persons who may file or present objections.

As soon as the commission has approved a definite consolidation plan based upon the report of Professor Ripley, it will present its proposal to the railroads and to the shippers and to all other interests affected by the project, as a definite program of action by the commission but one which can be changed upon argumentative proof that changes are necessary for the good of all the interests concerned.

The Republican leaders of congress seem to think today that under a liberal-conservative operating group consolidation plan the railroads will prosper, that employees will be satisfied, and that stockholders, bondholders and the public will have their time of rejoicing. No one knows definitely, of course, how things will work out, but the fact that the new congress will attempt to make them work out through the I. C. C.'s plan is a foregone conclusion.

Wall of the Pessimist.

Jack's parents had never left him to attend parties until he had almost reached the age of five. One night he was left with friends while his parents attended a dinner party. He said goodby, then remarked, "I might as well be an orphan."

Famous Elephant.

Jumbo, made famous by P. T. Barnum, was an African elephant 11 feet 6 inches in height and 6 tons in weight. He was captured when young and at three years of age was transferred from the Jardin de Plantes in Paris to the Zoological gardens in London. Barnum purchased him for $10,000 in 1882 and brought him to America, where for three years he was the chief circus attraction. He was killed while crossing a railroad track in Canada. The skin is mounted and stands in the Barnum museum at Tufts college; the skeleton is at the American Museum of Natural History.

CHINESE MAIDENS WILL SHOW NEW YORKERS HOW TO UNWIND COCOONS AND SPIN SILK FLOSS

EMPERESS OF RUSSIA, THE 'SILK SHIP'

China, the original home of sericulture, has sent a Silk Mission to attend the International Silk Exposition at New York. This is surely linking past and present for according to the native records of China, silk culture dates from a very remote period. The Lady of Si-ling who was Empress in 2640 B. C. did much to advance the industry, caring for silk-worms with her own hands. Tradition also credits her with having invented the loom for weaving the silken threads.

Great strides have been made through the ages in the matter of spinning or reeling the cocoons, in the standardization of raw silk and in weaving the floss, but the silk-worm lives and dies and spins his burial shroud—the precious cocoon—in the same old leisurely way he did 5,000 years ago.

However, new methods of preserving eggs and caring for the worms have been discovered. Today there are countless millions of silk-worm eggs kept in cold storage. When needed they are taken from storage, subjected to a uniform temperature of 70 degrees F. until hatched. Then ensues a busy time—the feeding time. Mulberry leaves, young, tender and finely chopped, are fed seven times a day for the first month, at the end of which the worm goes into the first of his five sleeps. Feedings are diminished between sleeps. At the end of the feedings and sleepings Mr. Worm spins a cocoon about himself.

At the proper stage the cocoons are collected and the pupa killed to prevent its further development into a moth which would burst the cocoon and ruin the silken filaments of which it is composed. The cocoons are soaked and then unwound and reeled by deft fingered girls, the resultant product being raw silk floss which is exported in great quantities. Many precious cargoes of silk come into Vancouver harbor by way of the Empress of Russia, that wonderful ocean greyhound which brought on its last trip from the Orient the Chinese Silk Mission, including three expert silk reellers, who will demonstrate their abilities at the Exposition.

Advertisers in the Daily Dispatch

Now get the same cut service as the big city dailies.

We have made arrangements with the Murray Illustrated Advertising Company of New York, for the furnishing of cuts for advertising purposes absolutely free to our patrons. This service is the best in America and has as clients some of the largest newspapers published.

Never before has it been possible for a paper to furnish this service without a considerable added outlay on the part of the advertiser, and even now it is only offered to the paper recognized by advertisers and readers as the leader in its section.

The Dispatch buys the cuts; the advertiser pays for the space in the paper at the same rate as for other advertising. Many of our patrons have already taken advantage of this offer and others are invited to do so.

We will be glad to explain the matter more fully
